IN TO STAY.

By a private letter received, it might be inferred that Mr. Oliver would not run as a candidate for Alberta if Mr. Haultain was in the field. To disabuse the minds of any, we wish to say that Mr. Oliver is now in the field and in to stay.

TERRITORIAL EXHIBITION.

A special request comes from Regina, asking all farmers who have samples of last year's grain yield to communicate at once with R. B. Gordon, Regina. And agricultural societies generally are requested to put forth every effort to procure the best exhibit obtainable. The exhibition will open at Regina on Monday, the 29th of July, and continue until the 10th of August, 1895.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING.

A large and lively meeting of the liberal conservatives was held in Calgary last Friday night. Telegrams were read from different districts asking that the convention be postponed and the basis of representation changed so as to allow an equal number of delegates from each electoral district. But the meeting decided it would take too long to notify outside associations, and they would leave the date that was fixed originally. Mr. Haultain said that both the date and basis was quite satisfactory, and it would be foolish to make a change at this late date. There were two factions present, a Cochrane party, and a Haultain party and each was there to back up its particular candidate. The Cochrane party had an overwhelming majority as the vote shows, seventeen Cochrane delegates were elected. The Calgary Herald says of Mr. Haultain "though an able man and one who, had he announced his conversion and entered the field sooner, would have been an accepted candidate," was under the present circumstances simply "not in it."

EDMONTON BULLETIN, MARCH 14th, 1895.

ELECTION ADDRESS.

To the electors of Alberta.

GENTLEMEN.—As the nominee of the convention of Alberta liberals which was held recently at Calgary, and having been assured of a strong support by the patrons of industry in Northern Alberta, as well as at the solicitation of a large number of independent conservatives in this part of the country, I have the honor to offer myself as a candidate for the representation of Alberta in the Commons at the approaching general election. The stand which I take with the full knowledge and consent of those who have tendered me their support is that of an independent as to party, but not as to principle. On the main question at present at issue between the liberal and conservative parties, I understand that the organizations and individuals tendering me their support have done so with the wish and expectation that I would and so far as lies in my power support the policy of a tariff for revenue as against the policy of a tariff for protection, which is the declared policy of the present government; on the ground that the protective policy discriminates unjustly against the western producer in favor of the eastern manufacturer.

Although holding strongly with the liberal party and also the patron organization on this point, I have not bound myself to either of these because I believe that the first duty of the single representative of a great country holding such great possibilities as this district of Alberta should be to use his every energy for the further development of this country and the realization of these possibilities; so he cannot if he is to be subject to restraint by the exigencies of any party. This constituency has had party representation during the past eight years, has been represented by a member of the party in power then and now. If the results have been satisfactory, that principle should be continued. If not it should be changed. It is because I believe that this system of party representation has been gravely injurious to this district that I have consented to make the personal sacrifice involved in my candidature, and because, so far as I know, no other person was likely to come forward to advocate these or like views.

In a region so vast and varied as Alberta it would be impossible for any man at any time to define all the points of policy that would affect each locality, therefore I do not attempt to do so here. I hope from time to time, however, in the course of the contest, to have the opportunity to discuss fully with the electors at most of the principal centres of population, all matters that may come up for discussion, in whatever shape they may appear. That such a vast region, having such a large population and such important interests should be accorded only one representative is as plain a case of injustice as is required to show the glaring failure of party representation to secure the people in even their simplest rights. The matter of railway extension and railway rates particularly in the north and the question of irrigation in the south seem to be the great questions affecting the interests of the district with which parliament will from time to time have to deal. I need not point out that while these are vital questions to Alberta, they are not party questions at all, and it is all the more necessary that your representative should be in a position to advocate your interests in regard to them in parliament without party hindrance even if he has to do it without party support.

Speaking generally I may say that I will support a policy of development for Alberta and while I will not bind myself to ask for favors for any section or interest I will bind myself to do all in my power to see that each section and every interest receives fair and equal treatment.

In conclusion I will say that although I have no personal interest to serve or ambition to gratify by entering upon this contest, yet having entered upon it in good faith I shall do all I can to win, and ask for the active assistance of every man who believes that the success of the principles which I have been selected to advocate would be in the interest of this constituency and of the country.

Respectfully Yours,

FRANK OLIVER.

EDMONTON, March 4th, 1895.

ACROSS THE GREAT DIVIDE.

Up in Librarian Preston's office in the parliament buildings sat Organizer Ellbeck, the man whose dispatching of the King's grills carried Hon. Wm. Hartly safely through the by-election that left Dr. Smythe feeling blue even than his over-confident friends.

Mr. Ellbeck is a man whose hair is beginning to show streaks of grey, but whose vigorous muscular frame betokens him just in his physical prime. The first glance leads you to look more closely, and if you are a student of face, you are not very long in making up your mind that the object of your scrutiny is not by means merely a party leader from Kingston.

And you would not be all wrong in coming to that conclusion. Mr. Ellbeck has "travelled over this mighty country from Maine to Mexico," not to mention the Canadian Northwest. Last summer he conducted some investigations in our own unexplored territory that are worthy of note in their way as those of our own J. B. Tyrrell, of Northwest fame.

The first thing Mr. Ellbeck mentioned about his western tour was the fact that in his opinion, the C. P. R. should have crossed the Rockies, as it was laid down in the old Mackenzie survey. "That would have obviated millions of dollars' worth of snow-sheds, and would have saved two-thirds of the present grade," said he. "As it is, there are four hundred miles of the railway that runs through country as barren as a desert. Edmonton is in a rich agricultural country, and right across the 'divide' the Cariboo country is a rock place, whose inhabitants are a mining population and the best of consumers. As it is now, I have seen a bushel of potatoes sold for 15 cents at Edmonton when they were 60 cents in the Cariboo country. Everything has to go round by the C. P. R., and that bushel would cost 35 cents to transport. They want a direct route."

Edmonton, Mr. Ellbeck said, was destined to be to the Territories what Winnipeg was to Manitoba. He thinks the western town will be a city some day that will leave the prairie capital nowhere. Its situation close to the market for produce among the miners in the rough country must make it the commercial centre of the agriculture country that lies all about it.

Mr. Ellbeck admitted having taken a trip into the eastern slope of the divide last summer, and said that he and his two companions and the guide travelled about 400 miles into that country on horseback.

They were preparing to start from Edmonton, and keeping their intentions very quiet, not to increase the excitement which reported finds were causing that city. Just at this juncture Indians brought some fine samples of mica in, and Edmontonians organized two rival parties to go and locate upon the mica territory. After they had got out of the way, the Ellbeck party, consisting of 23 horses and a few Indians, set out on their way in the early part of July. The Indians were going trapping upon the Smoky river.

The two mica parties met with poor luck, because, Mr. Ellbeck says they were tender-footed of the tenderest kind. One party had to kill a horse to save themselves from starvation. The others got within two miles of the mica deposits, after making a rough journey of over 400 miles, and then turned around and came back without locating a single claim. And the scorn in Mr. Ellbeck's voice tells you the opinion he has of these tenderfoot prospectors.

The object of Mr. Ellbeck was to see if there was not gold on the east side of the "divide." The rivers that leave the rich alluvial deposits that have given the Cariboo country its reputation as a gold district have their sources along with those that run down the eastern slope, so Mr. Ellbeck reasoned that the east side of the "divide" was just as likely a place for the "shiny" as the other country.

The trip was not unsuccessful. Placer mining was indulged in at every promising place, and the "color" more than once showed itself in the pan. One bar in particular Mr. Ellbeck mentioned as being extensive enough to keep 50 men "placering" for the next two years. "And you know," said he, "the deeper you get the more gold, and the chances for some fine nuggets would be pretty good at the bottom."

The Edmontonians interested in the mica supply are endeavoring to get Mr. Ellbeck to undertake an expedition for them next summer, but he says gold is good enough for him, and he is not fond of going any farther than necessary into such a rough country. The machinery and supplies would all have to be packed in on horses, and the work would be arduous.—Canadian Champion.

GENERAL MEETING.

Following is a continuation of letters read before the Local Council of Women and the office holders elected for the ensuing year.

Mrs. A. McDonald next read a sketch of the W. C. T. U. work done here.

PRESIDENT AND LADIES.—There may be some present who are not acquainted with the methods adopted by the W. C. T. U. for carrying forward the work in hand and a few words of explanation may not be out of place. The object of the organization is to assist in every possible way to bring about such reforms as shall overcome the evils from which humanity suffers, conspicuous among which is that giant evil the liquor traffic and its accompanying vices. In order to accomplish the greatest good various lines of work are planned and suggested by the Dominion W.C.T.U. and as far as it is practical the local unions act upon these suggestions. Something over 40 departments of work are taken up, such as bringing about a more careful observance of the Lord's day, giving teaching on the evils resulting from the use of opium, tobacco, &c., bringing before the minds of the public the importance of peaceful settlement of disputes among nations, evangelistic work, social purity, scientific temperance instruction, &c. So far the Edmonton union has done considerable in the way of relieving the suffering of the sick, giving timely aid in some cases where life seemed to be hanging in the balance. Work has also been done in the line of social purity, or rescue work. Scientific temperance instruction has not been overlooked. A loyal temperance legion is in active work under the supervision of the union. A band of mercy has also been organized in connection with the loyal temperance legion. The loyal temperance legion meets fortnightly in one or other of the churches and is presided over by one elected from the society. Recognizing the importance of educating public sentiment in order to successfully grapple with the great questions of the day, our W. C. T. U. has entered energetically upon the work of providing the best available literature on the subject of temperance and other great issues, for free distribution at six different points in our own town. A box at the railway station in South Edmonton is also kept supplied with literature for the use of any who may wish to read it and also take it home if desired. In addition to this, parcels have been sent out from time to time to different parts of the country. In this way over 1800 pages have been disposed of in a little over a year. Our union meets every second week for the transaction of business. Two public meetings were held during the last year. The first was in commemoration of the birth of Hon. Neil Dow, the great apostle of temperance, now nearly 91 years old. At that meeting a full programme of music, readings, addresses, dialogues, &c., &c., was rendered. The second meeting was held in May when we received valuable aid from two of our resident pastors, Rev. D. G. McQueen and Rev. G. W. Dean, who gave interesting and instructive addresses on the subject of temperance. We have also to report an address before the members of the W. C. T. U. and other ladies, by Mrs. Ellis, in the Baptist church, on the subject of heredity and hygiene. The subject was dealt with in an earnest and thoughtful manner. When the question of a reading room for the young men of town was under discussion, the union voted a generous contribution towards the enterprise. Arrangements are now being made to hold gospel temperance meetings on Sunday afternoons from time to time as may be deemed practicable. One of our members was recently appointed superintendent of W. C. T. U. work in the Northwest Territory, thus linking our union more strongly with fellow laborers in the work. Thirteen other unions and several loyal temperance legions are reported actively engaged in furthering the interests of our common cause throughout the country. Shall we not labor and pray that the time may not be far distant when drunkenness and all its attendant evils may be banished, no more to be a blot on our fair land? The annual membership dues of the Edmonton W. C. T. U. are 50 cents. Gentlemen may become honorary members by paying $1 per annum.

On the election of officers Mrs. McQueen moved and Miss Osborne seconded that the following be the officers for the ensuing year: Mrs. A. Taylor, president; Mrs. Wilson and Graham and Miss Henry, vice-presidents; Mrs. W. J. Walker, secretary; Mrs. F. Oliver, recording secretary; Mrs. Beck and Prince, treasurers. The president addressing the meeting said she wished to thank the different societies for having done so much for the needy, and especially to thank the King's Daughters for their large distribution of clothing and food. She would assure them on behalf of the Council of Women that they would do all in their power to make it a useful factor in Edmonton. After silent prayer the meeting adjourned.

NO CHANGE.

Some of the agricultural associations in the Northwest and private individuals have been asking the Lieutenant Governor to set the date of the Territorial exhibition in September instead of July. To a delegation that recently interviewed him, asking for the change, he distinctly said no, and his reason for so refusing is in the following: It has been found that in consequence of the railways requiring all the rolling stock for movement of the Eastern exhibition in September, the above dates were necessary in order to secure cheap freight and passenger rates.

The agricultural society here are quite satisfied with the date fixed in July.

POLITICAL NOTES.

At the Liberal convention held at Moose Jaw, Mr. Arthur Hutchins, of Moose Jaw was unanimously chosen the party standard bearer for Western Manitoba, in the coming elections.

The Liberals of Alberta were a unit in their selection of Frank Oliver, M. L. A., as their candidate; Mr. Oliver has accepted nomination as an Independent. That is what was to have been expected of him, for there is one genuinely independent man in Canada, that man is Frank Oliver. He is really a personification of Patriotism. His party and his leader will always have due respect and support from him, but not one more than is due. The party and leader that Mr. Oliver follows will pursue a straight course and will make a clean record.—Moose Jaw Times.

In the choice of Mr. Oliver, the Alberta Liberals have beyond doubt placed their strongest man in the field. Their candidate is a man of marked ability, a man who is fully conversant with the resources and requirements of the Canadian Northwest, and a man to whom Northern Alberta owes, in a great measure, the development of her latent richness and the prominent place she occupies in the west to day, in fact, the man to send to Ottawa. In coming out on the Independent ticket Mr. Oliver shows that, while his leanings are Liberal, he will not be bound body and soul to the party machine, but leaves himself in a position, should he be honored with election, to take an independent stand on matters of interest to the Northwest.—Medicine Hat Times.

The following is a copy of a letter, sent from Red Deer to an eastern friend: "The Dominion elections are the all absorbing topic here at present. We had a large and representative meeting at Red Deer last week. We unanimously chose F. Oliver, at present member of the Local Legislature, and editor of the Edmonton Bulletin. He is a staunch Liberal and a popular man throughout the entire district, and his election is assured, as he will receive the support of great numbers of erstwhile Tories. There is a great change in the political sentiment of the people here since the last general election; so much so, that it is almost certain the Liberal candidates will sweep everything from Winnipeg to British Columbia, including the latter. We are going at it in earnest and no stone will be left unturned to carry our point. Don't fail to send me papers containing the best information on the points of issue. So far as I can scan the situation, I believe the reformers will win the battle all over the Dominion. The N. W. Territories are a veritable preserve for the Government, inasmuch as they swarm with Government officials."

Halifax Herald: Liberal Conservatives are always pointing to what they have done, and to the progress, industrial growth and prosperity of the country under their administration.

Well what have they done? Added $108,000,000 to the net debt of Canada since 1878; increased the annual expenditure from $25,000,000 in 1878 to $57,000,000 in 1894; increased the taxation of the people from $17,841,000 in 1878 to $27,579,000 in 1894; maintained an insane policy of high taxation and trade restriction which has driven a million of Canadians to the United States, driven nearly 20,000 people out of the farming industry of the maritime provinces, and introduced disorder and demoralization into our whole trade and industrial system; and out of which have grown a series of abominable scandals more damaging to the reputation of Canada than even the enormous waste of public money which has taken place under their auspices since 1878. We are quite willing that the Herald should boast of these achievements of the combine-buckle government.—Halifax Chronicle.

CONSERVATIVE NOMINATION.

At the conservative convention held at Calgary, yesterday, T. B. H. Cochrane was chosen by acclamation as the party standard bearer in the coming elections.

THE BRIDGE SECURE.

But the news is so strong we'll have to take something with it. The gallant Lieutenant who placed himself as a candidate for Alberta, even before an election has been declared, has interviewed the ministers on the constituency's wants, says: Owing to his action the speedy construction of the bridge was decided upon. The Edmonton people have often said they have never received any government aid, but when Mr. Cochrane sweetens it up in this style, and offers it probably with a silver spoon too, how hard it will be to refuse. The citizens will be out in force to meet the gallant gentleman on his arrival "at the bridge."
